My Daily Affirmations
Become aware and intentional, then love on yourself and others to gain the confidence to manifest your wildest dreams to reality.

Aware
I choose what I want to become.
Everything I do today leads to a better tomorrow.

Intentional
I am leveling up my mindset, my health, my bank account and my confidence - starting today, starting now!

I will practice letting go of what doesn't serve me.

Love
I easily align with the energy of love.
I choose to love myself as I am now. I radiate love.

Confidence
My determination is stronger than my fear.
I am unaffected by the judgement of others.

Manifest
Practice: Intensify your awareness of what you want and not your need to desire or have it. Trust that it will happen without a doubt. Imagine it happening, visualize it using all your senses. Command it to happen. Say "It loud" it is happening". Ask every cell in your body to intensify your command acknowledging your intention while bringing your awareness to every part of your body.

How To Show Love to Your Candle
(make sure you're showing love to yourself as well)

Allow your candle to melt all the way to the edges during each burn! This will maximize the candle's scent and total burn time while preventing tunneling.

Trim your wick to 1/4" each time (1/8" for wooden wicks) before you light your candle (not necessary for the first burn).

Be aware of any drafts, breezes or fans near your candle. If you notice your flame flickering towards a certain direction, try to find a better place for it. If it is a natural draft or can't be prevented, rotate it every hour or so, so that you maintain an even burning candle.

Do not burn your candle more than 4 hours.
